Production of milk by DMS

853. SHRI J. P. GOYAL: Will the Minister of AGRICULTURE be pleased to state:

(a) whether it is a fact that the Delhi Milk Scheme has been supplying much less quantity of milk for distribution to public from its milk booths;

(b) if so, what are the reasons for the same;

(c) whether it is also a fact that the plants of the Delhi Milk Scheme have become obsolete and if so, what steps have been taken to replace them;

(d) what is the production capacity of milk in bottles and what is the actual production; and

(e) the capacity added by the Delhi Milk Scheme for supply of milk in packets and what is the actual production of milk in packets of one and half litre capacity and whether there is any plan to increase this capacity and if so, what are the details thereof?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE AND COOPERATION IN THE MINISTRY OF AGRICULTURE (SHRI YOGENDRA MAKWANA): (a) and (b) During the month of July, 1987 the average daily supply of milk maintained by Delhi Milk Scheme has been higher than in July, 1986. The normal rate of supply of milk could, however, not be maintained on seven different days in the month mainly due to failure of electricity supply, very low electricity voltage, low operating efficiency of old bottling plants and shortage of working staff as a result of 'Delhi Bandh' on 9-7-1987.

(c) The bottling plants in the Delhi Milk Scheme have become old and have been operating at low efficiency. It is therefore, proposed to gradually replace them with new pouch filling machines.

(d) The installed capacity of bottling plants is 3.50 lakh litres of milk per day. The actual average production in 1986-87 has, however, been 2.89 lakh litres of milk per day.

(e) Three pouch filling machines (including one stand-by) were installed in Delhi Milk Scheme to increase the production of milk in one and half litre packets by 40,000 litres of milk per day. The actual production of milk by these machines has been much higher at about 68,000 litres average per day in 1986-87.

A project to increase the milk processing capacity of Delhi Milk Scheme by 1.25 lakh litres per day has been sanctioned and necessary action for installation of machinery etc., is in progress.

(c) whether any reponsibility has since been fixed on the officers of D.D.A. and if so, what are details in this regard and what action has been taken against the guilty officers?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF URBAN DEVELOPMENT (SHRI DALBIR SINGH): (a) to (c) Arising out of the Central Vigilance Commission's 22nd Report, the Chief Technical Examiners' organisation under the Central Vigilance Commission has brought to the notice of the Delhi Development Authority six cases of irregularities in the works executed by the Authority.
